

Re-thinking Postslavery

2-3 July 2010 / International Slavery Museum, Liverpool

Friday 2 July 2010

13:00 Coffee and sandwich lunch

14:00 Welcome

14:10 Reports on previous Re-thinking Postslavery Workshops:

- Dmitri van den Bersselaar (Liverpool) on:
Postslavery – examples from the Atlantic Basin (8 September 2009)
- Olivier du Lac (Liverpool) on:
Postslavery and Migrations in Africa (15 March 2010)
- Anne Eichmann (UCLAN) on:
Postslavery and Culture (21 May 2010)
- Louise Hardwick (Birmingham) on:
Postslavery in the Francophone Caribbean (25 June 2010)

15:00 Richard Benjamin (ISM) 'Postslavery in the International Slavery Museum'

15:15 Discussion

15:35 Tea

15:50 Livio Sansone (Universidade Federal da Bahia):

'Memory of slavery from nearby and the challenge of reverting the politics of forgetting in Brazil - with the help of affirmative action and new technology'

16:50 Close of day 1 [museum closes 17:00]

Saturday 3 July 2010

9:30 Coffee available

10:00 Denis Regnier (LSE):

'Slave descendants in the southern highlands of Madagascar: an ethnographic account'

Aldrin Castellucci (UNEB Bahia State University):

'Citizenship and politics in Post-Abolition Brazil: a study focused on the trajectory of a working group'

Renaud Hourcade (Rennes/Liverpool):

'A mastered past? Negotiating the local memory of the slave trade in Bordeaux and Nantes'

11:45 Coffee

12:00 Bruce Baker (Royal Holloway):

'Poor Whites After Slavery: Towards a Biracial History of the New South's Working Class'

Catherine Clinton (Queens, Belfast): 'Gender, Sex & Emancipation: Post-Traumatic Responses to Slavery'

13:30 Lunch

14:30 Discussion

16:00 Close

---

This symposium is organised by the Centre for the Study of International Slavery (CSIS, a partnership between the University of Liverpool and National Museums Liverpool), supported by an ESRC Seminar Grant.

