

Treasurer's Report: Howard Hunt

In my first year as treasurer for Interchange, we have seen very little movement in the accounts other than the replenishment of petty cash for ongoing expenses from our current account. This has resulted in a small (under £200) negative cash flow on this account. The deposit account was untouched and, therefore, gained a small amount of interest. Overall, our assets have decreased by approximately 2.5% in 2015. This is in line with previous years' movements.

During the year we received a grant to hold a 21st Birthday celebration. This was managed outside our normal accounting system.

From 2016 onwards, it may be advantageous for us to include salaries and facilities payments from the University in the annual accounts. At the moment, this would have a neutral impact on the accounts but in future we may need to show these figures in the accounts. This will particularly apply if we have separate income streams from outside the University.

For 2015, we appointed a new independent examiner, Mr John Hannah, from Elmwood Accounting. It is proposed that we continue with this arrangement for 2016.

Staff Report: Claudette Graham

2015 was another busy year for Interchange. We continued to provide support to our 22 2014/15 students. We held several briefing sessions for the Voluntary and Community Organisations (VCOs) which resulted in 44 project ideas for 2015/16. We also welcomed new partnership with several new VCOs and continued to work successfully with current partners. There was continued high attendance at the drop in sessions in the Interchange office as the flexibility of drop in times was favourable.

Our 22 students graduated in July 2015 we welcomed 21 new students in September 2015.

We celebrated 21 years of Interchange with a wonderful event held at Blackburne House which captured Interchange generously over the past, present and future. As we approach the end of 2015 our cohort of students settled in with their projects and Link Workers.

With thanks

The student and community activities would not have been possible without the continued support of all the trustees:

Secretary – Dr Lindsey Metcalf

Treasurer – Howard Hunt

Community representatives – Ben Carpenter, Mike Hogan, Angie Daley (Angie resigned as a trustee)

Academic staff – Professor David Whyte, Dr Andrew Kirton

Alumni – Laura Donovan

New trustee: Marie Wheldon

Interchange Coordinator - Claudette Graham.

Claudette has continued to seek out VCOs across Merseyside and Greater Manchester that work with hard-to-reach groups. This has led to these VCOs having useful project reports that will hopefully be of benefit to them, their beneficiaries and local communities. Additionally our students have had amazing learning opportunities collaborating with these innovative services by taking their research skills into the community. And, finally, thanks must go to all the VCOs and students that have collaborated over 2015.

Undergraduates

2015 marked the demise of the modules 'Applied Social Research', 'Reflecting on Applied Social Research' and 'Social Policy Project: work-based learning' and replacement 'The Interchange Portfolio: work-based learning' combining the key elements of the three modules. The teaching team expanded to include Paul Jones, alongside Andrew Kirton, Louise Hardwick and David Whyte.

Funded by the School of Law & Social Justice Development Fund a celebratory symposium was held on the impact of a community university partnership over 21 years. This took place in Blackburn

House, November 2015. Representative from past and present VCO attended with presentations by:

- Irene Hall, the founder of Interchange
- Ben Carpenter (trustee) presenting on his SRol analysis of Interchange
- Marie Wheldon and Laura Donovan, both trustees and presenting on their collaboration in 2012. This was when Marie worked with Whisk and acted as link worker for Laura, then an Interchange student researcher.

The David Hall Memorial Prize for best Interchange project was won by Beth Callaghan.

Secretary's Report: Lindsey Metcalf

The Interchange management committee had the pleasure of deciding how best to mark the 21st anniversary of our organisation in 2015. We were delighted to host a celebratory event at Blackburne House in November, at which many of our past and present students and link workers from many of the voluntary organisations we have worked with were present. Guest of honour was Irene Hall, one of the founders of Interchange. Present committee members were very pleased to meet Irene and to hear her speak about the early days of the organisation.

The committee remain immensely proud of the contribution made by Interchange students and the positive feedback received from local organisations about the impact that Interchange projects can make. This year we congratulated 22 students as they graduated from the university, and in September we welcomed a further 21 new Interchange students taking up projects in the local community.

As well as contributing to committee members and maintaining the effective governance of the charity, the volunteers on our committee provide ongoing support to the Coordinator by helping to publicise the benefits to local organisations of hosting an Interchange student. They also give up their time to support the summer briefing meetings, which form a crucial part of the process of developing successful research proposals and project plans. We are a very small charity, and the voluntary support provided by our committee members is invaluable. A special thanks this year goes to our trustee Ben Carpenter, for the pro bono work he has provided to Interchange to conduct a Social Return on Investment assessment of our charity.
