Charity trustees in the dock: the implications of the Kids Company case

What can we learn from the Kids Company case? What can charity trustees do to protect themselves? Will prospective trustees be deterred from acting?

We will have an opportunity to discuss initial reflections on the 'hot off the press' High Court decision in the Kids Company Case.

Matthew Smith, Maitland Chambers

This will involve a short presentation of the issues followed by moderated Q & A discussion.

The work of CLPU is kindly supported by Brabners LLP Solicitors.
