

Title: On some longevity modelling and monitoring issues
Stéphane Loisel

Abstract: In this talk, we introduce longevity risk and show the importance of individual characteristics for longevity risk estimation.
After presenting a new way to address cohort effect, we conclude with some longevity change-point detection problem.